I am a close friend of HortEx Vietnam and I believe they have a truly excellent team with exceptional execution on how to bring the market together and create a community that fosters communication and innovation. HortEx Vietnam has raised the bar for horticulture, both yesterday and tomorrow. We have gained new perspectives and can integrate new technologies such as irrigation and sensors. HortEx Vietnam is the ideal partner to bridge the gap.

We will certainly consider participating again. I believe that HortEx Vietnam connects us to new markets. Our partners here, including Walton, provide excellent daily support to our customers for our many technologies. It is our aim to return next year to showcase our developments for the Vietnamese market.

We are participating in HortEx Vietnam as an exhibitor for the first time, and the atmosphere has been truly bustling. All of the booths have been perfectly prepared. Despite the two-year disruption caused by the pandemic, the organizers have done an excellent job in hosting this show, and for me, it has been an amazing and successful experience.

I sincerely hope that our participation in HortEx Vietnam will help us connect with our partners for exporting, and together, we can create a large raw material area to enhance the value of Vietnamese agricultural products.

I have participated in HortEx Vietnam several times, I believe it's been more than four times. We started with the very first HortEx and have made significant progress since then. The last time we participated was three years ago, just before the pandemic, and we are thrilled to be here again this year.

Today marks just the beginning of the show, but it's already been great. I believe that today will be a fantastic day for many people. Furthermore, we are hopeful that more people will take an interest in our new projects.
